Message from the Photographer:

In my years of experience as a parent and photographer of school-age children, I found that presenting the portrait session to your child as an opportunity for a fun and relaxing day may ease some of the possible apprehension. They don't need to do anything that day, just be their awesome smiling selves.

Prep time:

A bit of preparation goes a long way. Laying out your child's clothes the night before may help everyone ease through the following morning.

What to wear:

Simple and easy hairstyles will last throughout the day. Darker autumn colors and solids are best. Please avoid wearing bright colors, white tops, or anything with decals or advertisements.

What messy faces?

I respect each child's way of arriving and sitting before me. With welcome, compassion, and a great attitude, we will have a fun experience no matter what they decide to do.

Clean messy faces and comb hair before they leave the car on portrait day. A clean face may prevent a make-up/retake session.

What to expect next:

You can place your order online 2 to 3 weeks after portrait day. I will send you a reminder.
